

A whimsical illustration of a castle with three towers and a central spire, perched on a grassy cliff. The castle is yellow with green roofs and red flags. The background is a dark purple night sky with a large, glowing moon, stars, and faint nebulae. The overall style is soft and dreamlike.

Birri and the ball.
Adventure of the small bat.

By Arina Khabibullina

Illustrated by

Arina Khabibullina

In one abandoned castle a small bat lived with her parents. Her name was Birri. Most of all Birri loved to fly and play with her colorful ball.

Once the ball disappeared!

*Birri looked for him all over the castle,
but there was no trace of him! And then the bat decided to continue her search outside the castle.*

Birri flew over forests and fields for a long time and finally saw a meadow on which a rabbit played with her ball. Birri went down to the meadow that really scared the rabbit.

- What is your name? - asked Birri.

- Max... - the rabbit sad.

- And I am Birri. Nice to meet you, Max! It is my ball, but let's play together!

- Good idea, Birri!

So Birri found not only her ball, but also a new friend.